BERLIN, Oct. 3.—Soviet Russia can already be considered beaten, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler told a wildly cheering audience in the Sportsplatz today.

But to ensure victory and to "shape the course of history for the next hundred years," the entire German nation must become "one community of sacrifice," the Fuehrer said.

In apparent reference to the United States, Hitler said:

"If you read sometimes in the papers about the gigantic plans of other states, and hear of billions, remember what I say now:

"We do not speak of capital but of labor power. And if we do not speak of labor power, we do not act. The others say that their guns are better, and their tanks faster. But in the fight, we still have so far always beaten them. They say they always perform miracles, but they have no miracles which surpass ours."

The German conception of greatness, Hitler said, is not capital but labor power.

Returning from his field headquarters on the eastern front to open the annual Nazi winter relief campaign, Hitler announced that "gigantic new operations" had been put under way during the last 48 hours.

"I can say today," he declared, "that this opponent has already been beaten."

The subject matter for today can be expressed in just a line, it rates much more but this is it, today the gentleman is nine. A most important birthday date as you recall long years ago, when you were nine you felt grown up, and thought of places you could go. For when you're nine and feel grown up, folks pay a little more respect to what you say and what you think, and do the things that you expect. Nine years of age, the time goes fast, and boyhood moments slip away, but nine is still a little boy, the weather's seventy three today.

The Parent Problem

CHANGING SCHOOL COURSES.

"May I change from French to Spanish?" Rowland asked his principal. "I don't think I am going to like French, but I know that Spanish will be interesting."

Then in walks Nora requesting a change from chemistry to physics, and as she goes out. Harry enters with a wish to drop his mathematics and take agriculture. The extent of such swapping of school courses in a few schools is appalling.

Human beings have a curious way of kidding themselves along. We generally do about what we want to do and then attempt to justify our actions afterwards.

If any one will take the trouble to look more closely into the reasons pupils have for exchanging courses, he will find all sorts of human factors. Rowland probably did not like his French teacher. She may have hurt his feelings. Probably he cannot bluff so easily with her. He may have discovered her to be a hard marker.

The Spanish teacher may have a reputation more to Rowland's liking. Perhaps a girl that Rowland likes, or a boy that is in the Spanish class he hopes to enter. Or, Rowland, entirely convinced that nothing could be worse than French, may merely wish to take a chance on Spanish.

Parents Can Help

By keeping in close touch with the child's teachers and the school we parents can help the child estimate his likelihood of success in the subjects he has chosen for a term, and to see how wasteful it is, as a rule, to shift from one course to another, particularly during the same term.

The average junior high school pupil may not be competent to know what is best for him. We his parents, may not know; nor may his teachers. But the chances are that all of working together may know more wisely than any of us acting separately.

When our boys and girls are adolescents it may be too late for us to cultivate this ideal very effectively. Let us begin with the younger children, even with the baby, to train him in making right choices and in sticking by them. The trouble is, we parents do not nearly all the choosing for our young children, giving them little opportunity to learn to choose alone. Then when they suddenly are faced with the need to make important choices, such as confronting the average adolescent youth, they may be all at sea.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Why is a pacifier bad?
A. It can't be kept clean. Sucking on it increases loss of saliva and reduces appetite. It also may spoil the shape of the baby's mouth. The baby with it may swallow air and get a stomach-ache.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. How can I train my boy of four to tell the truth?
A. Don't lie to him: carry out your commands and fulfill your promises. Don't call him a liar when, because of keen imagination, poor observation or inaccurate memory he errs in report. Tempt him not to lie. Don't hold court. Don't be a detective or prosecuting attorney. Don't put him on the witness stand to make him testify against himself. Courts of justice don't. Parents do.

GOLF CLUB TALKING

Said the brassie to the iron, "I suppose we're doomed to be in our owner's fit of temper wrapped about some maple tree. The factory chap who made us claims that we're the finest clubs. But this awful man who bought us is the sorriest of the dubs."

Said the driver to the putter: said the "five" to number "four": "In the hands of Walter Hagen we could make a decent score. And the caddy could do better than this fat old millionaire. Who brings nothing to his golf game but ability to swear."

Said the spoon unto the niblick: "I had never heard such gibberish. Had it been my happy fortune to belong to Bobby Jones. But alas, a plumber bought me and he puts the blame on me. Every time a shot he fizzes as if mine the fault must be."

All the clubs began to chatter: "Very few the irons and woods. Who become the proud possessions of the players who are good."

Most of us fall to poets, parsons, lawyers, men of trade. Who are utterly unable to learn how we should be played."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:40. Sun rises tomorrow 5:39.

Talk about strawberries in October! Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vaughn of Walmo gave the Hints and Dints man a quart of the finest strawberries yesterday that we have ever seen. They have a patch from which they get about ten quarts a week. We sure appreciated the nice gift and Mrs. Vaughn even brought them to this office.

Question: When I visit a new acquaintance who offers me a cocktail, is it correct for me to refuse it? I never drink anything alcoholic—Julia.

Answer: It is the privilege of any one who does not drink alcohol to refuse a drink. "No thank you" should suffice. If an explanation is desired, you might reply: "I do not drink alcohol." But do not say it in a manner of disparagement.

Question: Is a settee in good taste as a substitute for a davenport in a living room?—Kitty.

Answer: Indeed, yes, one would be in good taste and a very wise choice in a small, informal room which a large davenport might over-crowd. Settees are very effective in either their natural covering or when colorful chintz slip covers are added to them.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR WATCH.

A watch is one of the most delicate of mechanical devices. Its balance wheel vibrates 156,600 times per year. A thimble will hold 20 of the screws used in some watches.

1.—Wind once a day, preferably in the morning, because you are more regular in rising than in retiring and because the watch will have its mainspring ready for the hardest part of its 24-hour duty. Wind fully but don't twist too tight.

2.—Do not open the back of the case except when necessary, for dust and even your breath may develop trouble.

3.—Do not take your watch near a powerful electric generator or high powered electric machinery, for the balance wheel or other steel parts may become magnetized.

4.—Set the hands with great care.

5.—When you bathe take off your wrist watch. If any watch gets wet accidentally take it at once to a watch repairer or jeweler. Prompt action may prevent rust and ruin.

6.—Have your pocket watch cleaned at least every 18 months and your wrist watch every 8 months, for lack of oil the most expensive watch may be ruined. Only a tenth of a drop is needed for a year, but oil deteriorates and fresh does not work with old oil.

ORIGIN OF SLANG. Slang is not of recent origin in Dr. William H. Davis of Stanford University is right in his deductions. Dr. Davis, who is said to be in favor of the use of slang because it adds color to the language, believes that "fighting tooth and nail" and "gouging between the eyes" originated back in the days of the cave man. Of course, "draw a long bow" and "shot his bolt" must have had their origin back in the days of chivalry while "flash in the pan" and "quick on the trigger" came a little later with the invention of firearms. So the modern generations are merely carrying on by coining such phrases as "Where's Elmer" and "Come up to see me sometime."

Man Theories On Preventing Slump
Henderson Believes It Can Be Done
Prevention Of Boom Now Suggested

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Can a post-war depression be prevented? Economist Leonard Henderson of Uncle Sam's new Supply Priorities and Allocation Board says, "Yes"—provided we do our preventing in advance, right now, while the war's still raging, and the slump hasn't hit us yet. If we don't have a boom we won't have the slump, he contends. That's why he's trying so hard to hold down boom time prices, by discouraging buying all he can on civilian consumer's part. For one thing, he wants a minimum of civilian competition with defense, for our industrial products. Aside from that, though, he's looking ahead to the post-war period.

Economist Adolf A. Berle, one of State Secretary Hull's assistants, maintains that there'll be no slump if the right kind of peace is made finally—a peace so just and considerate of everybody that the whole world will be too comfortable and happy not to prosper, practically involuntarily.

As for unemployment, there'll be enough reconstruction to be attended to, according to Adolf, to make jobs fairly go a-begging. "Phooey!" comments Executive Secretary Leo M. Cherne of the Research Institute of America, a private organization. "With the war still going on, before the end of this year we're going to have as bad an unemployment problem on our hands as we had in the midst of our last depression. Defense priorities are being granted to big industrial concerns at such a rate that the little ones can't get raw materials. They'll have to shut down, throwing their workers out of jobs a good deal faster than defense industry can absorb 'em."

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, chairman of a committee that has done more economic investigating than any other group in congressional history, inclines to agree with Economist Cherne.

His account is of a corksiring big companies send to Washington spokesmen who, on the strength of their vast size and influence, win priorities to the exclusion of lesser ones. They get good-sized ones, which consequently make it hard to suspend and perhaps go bankrupt, leaving 'em still busted after the war's ended. And what'll that do to post-war employment?

The senator has a bill pending in congress for the creation of a government body to give ear to these comparative industrial peewees' lamentations, and regulate the situation.

Congressman Joseph W. Martin, minority leader in the house of representatives, goes Senator O'Mahoney one better. His forecast is that unemployment may develop to such proportions as, perhaps, to force a dictatorship. Joe Martin, to be sure, isn't particularly an economist and he is a Republican. Still, he's quite a figure on Capitol Hill—not to be sneezed at.

The National Resources Planning Board and Federal Works Agency seem to have a notion that there's a possibility of a sufficient postwar slump to make a cushion desirable, to put under it.

Their scheme is to have a huge program of public improvements planned in advance, ready to start in on the minute unemployment begins to manifest itself. The other day the Planning Board announced that, in co-operation with the Works Agency, it has 51 cities in 19 states enlisted in this piece of preparation, and it hopes to win more cities and states in the near future.

Toward the end of the last war, Herbert Hoover evolved a similar idea, but never did much toward getting the necessary plans formulated.

True, a tremendous amount of public building was done in Washington during depression years, but it needed to be a lot more widely spread out than that to make any considerable impression. Subsequently there was a deal of "leaf raking," but nobody regarded it as very sound economics.

Today the economists, in short, are in a lot of disagreement.

And maybe it's no wonder. None of their past tinkering, in such emergencies as the present one, has proved successful. Now they're trying numerous new kinds of experiments, but they haven't been tried out yet. Whether any of 'em will work, actually tested, naturally is a mere matter of theory.

There are about as many theories as there are economists.

INDIANAPOLIS — Secretary of Navy Frank Knox contends that within the "iron ring" of sea power Germany will ultimately perish. "In the long run this advantage of sea power, and sea power alone will be decisive."

WASHINGTON — Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the U. S., arrives back in America with the story of the way the British are thinking. "Everybody in England feels that an invasion of the continent should be attempted as soon as possible. They feel they are passing from the defensive to the offensive stage of the war."

CHICAGO — Gov. Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, urging a unified support of the president's foreign policy, points out that the Republican party should be neither obstructionist nor isolationist.

"I am more concerned with what happens to my country than what happens to my party."

The World and the Mud Puddles

Muddled Ideas

If the Congress of the United States would pass all the laws that the jittery citizens of this country—particularly, those citizens that support the New Deal—desire, there would be absolutely no freedom left. One citizen will say, for instance, that the government ought to take over all of the manufacturing plants working on the defense program and put the workmen in the same category as the Army; in other words, make workmen work whether they wanted to or not. Another would put Lindbergh and Wheeler in jail to stop them from criticizing the administration; for being isolationists, and all that sort of thing. Another would forbid the Press from criticizing the President or any of his acts, and so on, ad infinitum. Now, a free Press is something that we have always looked upon with pride; free speech is another thing and they talk about the people of this country being a "free people."

The Federal Constitution provides that "Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of speech..." or of the people peaceably. In time of war, such laws it is true have been enacted by Congress irrespective of the Constitution and upheld on the general ground of public policy and the common law with respect to seditious libel. Today the country is not legally at war and if some persons argue the present emergency is tantamount to war, they still face a serious dilemma.

Who is entitled to decide when an emergency short of war has attained proportions calling for a suspension of the Bill of Rights? Back in 1798 Congress experimented with such legislation as is implied in the current discussion of the proper limits of free speech. During a quarrel with France in 1798 it enacted the so-called "alien and sedition" laws, one of which sought to strip the privilege of criticizing the President, Congress or the government as a whole. These proved a political boomerang of the first order and the mistake was not repeated.

The fact is that proposals for curtailing speech on an emergency plea, short of war, although occasionally advanced by well-intentioned people, are the product of dangerously muddled thinking.

INDIANAPOLIS — Secretary of Navy Frank Knox contends that within the "iron ring" of sea power Germany will ultimately perish. "In the long run this advantage of sea power, and sea power alone will be decisive."

AIDING RUSSIA DIFFICULT

UNITED STATES and British delegations to the Moscow conference on aid to Russia face the task of ascertaining the best route or routes by which American and British aid can actually find its way to battle lines that stretch the huge distance from the Arctic to the Black Sea. In the light of what can most speedily be produced in the United States and the vicissitudes of transport, there will have to be a high degree of selectivity of first things first.

These ground-clearing problems have been taken up by the Moscow conference at a time when the German armies, though they have failed to conquer Leningrad, have pressed forward in the north and the German navy claims to have the Russian navy bottled up in the Gulf of Finland and the Gulf of Riga.

The conference did not get under way until after tremendous German successes in the Ukraine, with the fall of its capital, Kiev. It comes at a time when Germany is exerting vast pressure on the reluctant Bulgars to fight the Russians, though the Bulgars might more willingly fight the Turks for a share of control of the Dardanelles. Hitler's land forces are reported to have cut off the Crimean Peninsula and he aims for capture of Odessa and Sebastopol and the bottling up of the Russian Black Sea fleet.

So, in connection with American and British aid to Russia, regardless of the willingness of Congress to vote another $6,000,000,000 for lease-lend, three conclusions are inevitable. One is that the Russians are exceedingly hard pressed and may be worse off before early winter sets in. Another is that weeks if not months will elapse before American supplies in quantity can begin to reach Russia. The third is that such control by Hitler of the Black Sea as now exists eliminates another means of success.

The alternatives would be Vladivostok across the Pacific, with American supplies passing close to Japanese waters and having to be transported overland across Siberia, or a routing through the Persian Gulf, across Iran and into the Caspian. The latter would seem the more feasible with Russia and Britain in control of Persia.

Aid to Russia, then, on any basis, will be slow and difficult, increasingly difficult if the Russians suffer more reverses in the next few weeks.

DON'T MAKE IT 'CALAMITY LANE'

Whether or not the safety record on the Pennsylvania Turnpike is far better than the national average, as the commission asserts, the one-year total of 29 deaths on the road is still far too many, and if there are any means available to cut down the accident toll they should be adopted.

Adequate police patrol of the turnpike, for instance, is essential. Apparently for reasons of economy, the number of motor policemen assigned to the road was cut during the summer from 60 to 29. This means that there are fewer men to enforce the 70-mile speed limit, to warn motorists of icy spots and other hazards, and by their very presence to discourage reckless driving.

Motorists are not given carte blanche, just because they enter the super-highway, to indulge in super-dizzy driving exploits. But many a person who has never gone beyond 60 miles an hour in ordinary travel tries to get his money's worth from the turnpike toll by hitting 80 or even higher speeds.

Religious Freedom Assurances Sought From Soviet Leaders

American Mission Now In Russia Seeks Some Assurances On Issue

By GEORGE DUNNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The American mission, now in Moscow has been charged with the task of inducing the Soviet government to give the people of the United States some concrete assurances on the subject of "religious freedom."

It became known today that this development follows President Roosevelt's expression of hope that an "entering wedge" has been affected in Russia's attitude toward the complete liberty of worship.

W. Averell Harriman, head of the American mission, has been instructed, it became known, to impress upon the Russian authorities the desirability of such action by the Soviet.

President Roosevelt late yesterday caused a stenographic transcript to be made public of his press conference observations last Tuesday concerning the attitude of the Soviet to freedom of religious worship. The White House explained this was done to overcome "conflicting interpretations" and "misquotations" which had appeared to stir up a considerable cross-section of the American clergy.

Msgr. Michael J. Ready, executive secretary of the National Catholic Welfare conference, called at the White House and was closeted with President Roosevelt for 45 minutes yesterday shortly before the formal statement was issued. It was understood Monsignor Ready was shown the press conference transcript to dismiss misapprehensions he held on the basis of press reports.

The Harriman mission together with a like British mission headed by Lord Beaverbrook is now conferring in Moscow with Premier Josef Stalin and the Russian high command over the rushing of all possible war supplies to the Red armies.

Nazi Raiders Pound Five British Coastal Towns

Heavy Damage In Two Towns

One Coastal Town Submitted To Its Heaviest Night Raid of War

MANY CASUALTIES CAUSED BY ATTACKS

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 3.—While a small force of British bombers attacked the docks at German-occupied Brest, Nazi raiders pounded five British coastal towns last night and early today and caused heavy casualties in two of them.

Three of the German bombers were shot down, one over the north-east coast, the second over the Firth of Forth area and the third over northeastern England.

The air ministry said a small force of R. A. F. heavy bombers attacked the docks of Brest and St. Nazaire during the night, while fighting planes bombed German airdromes in occupied territory.

Heaviest Raid of War
One southeastern coastal town was subjected to the heaviest night raids it has experienced in the entire war. Amid a terrific anti-aircraft barrage, dive-bombers swooped down on the town, causing considerable damage.

Raiders also attacked northeastern England for some hours and many casualties were reported in one town in that area.

It was estimated 50 Nazi bombers raided one northeastern town. Bombs demolished two air raid shelters, a motion picture theatre and rows of cottages.

Authorities said a "considerable number" of persons were killed and injured. Search for the victims was still proceeding late this morning.

Editor's note: A Berlin announcement stated strong Luftwaffe units during the night raided Newcastle, causing numerous conflagrations.

The southeastern town was attacked by three separate waves of planes. The second and third phases of the assault were reported to have killed and injured a large number of residents.

Former Justice Brandeis Stricken

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Former Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis was reported in a critical condition today, suffering from a heart attack.

The 84-year-old jurist, a native of Louisville, Ky., who retired February 13, 1939, after serving 25 years on the bench, was stricken at his home Wednesday night. Mrs. Brandeis is with her husband, and other members of the family have been summoned.

Brandeis graduated from Harvard in the class of 1877 and was admitted to the bar the following year. He began his practice in Boston in 1879 and maintained offices there until his appointment to the supreme court.

News Briefs From City Hall

Mayor Charles B. Mayne is awake. And further he is a protector of local merchants. After enjoying breakfast this morning he started toward city hall. However, he espied an Ohio car in which there were a lot of boxes. He stopped, investigated, then arrested a man who gave the name of J. E. Tindall, of Ohio, for selling without a license. At city hall the salesman paid a fine of $20.00 and took out a license to transact business. This is not the first instance of His Honor exercising his authority because, as mayor, he is the superintendent of city police.

According to Arthur Harris meter operator and collector of deposits, the check for the last 10 days parking has not been finished. However, he said more than $1,000 will have been realized. Through police court receipts for the month of September $702.00 was realized by the city. According to this average the police bureau, of which the parking meters is a part, collects approximately $3,000 a month.

John McKibben, WPA watchman on the city-WPA project, today requested the person who stole his raincoat and spectacles, which were in one of the pockets, to return them to the job. He needs them.

If you don't like the situation, blame those who taught a generation what it should get instead of what it should do.

Held in Double Slaying

Manuel Jacinto (right), 45, a handyman, is shown in custody of a Highland Falls, N. Y., detective after being trapped by a 250-man posse. He was held for the slaying of Vincent J. Monte, 54, a fuel dealer, and Mrs. Doris Croyle, 35, Monte's secretary. Jacinto blamed Monte for having him jailed for disorderly conduct last August. The double shooting occurred in view of scores of school children. (Central Press)

Seven Synagogues In Paris Destroyed By Bomb Explosions

Only Walls Of Synagogues Are Left Standing After Blasts

(International News Service)
VICHY, Oct. 3.—Seven Paris synagogues were destroyed by bombs between 1 and 5 a. m. today and two persons were injured by the blasts.

Only the walls of the synagogues were left standing. Admiral Bard, prefect of Paris police, began an immediate investigation.

(Editor's Note: A Reuters dispatch from Vichy said six Paris synagogues were blown up and that an attempt to destroy the seventh failed when the bomb was discovered in time to prevent an explosion.)

The wrecked synagogues were situated on the Rue Des Tournelles, the Rue Montespan, Rue Copernic, Rue Notre Dame De Nazareth and Rue De La Victoire.

Apparently none of the perpetrators has been apprehended as yet. Meanwhile authorities revealed that Sylvain Andre Riboulois of the town of Valres was shot by German authorities Oct. 1.

He was accused of stealing a German rifle and ammunition at the Valres railway station. One rifle was found in his home.

GAMBLE FOR ROMANCE

(International News Service)
FORT RILEY, Kan., Oct. 3.—Soldiers at the training replacement center at Fort Riley are gambling for romance. A donation of 25 cents a week is contributed by each soldier to the "sweetheart" pot.

Troopers whose sweetheart's name is drawn get a share of the love fund to pay for her round trip expense for a visit to the fort. Private George Thomson, Cleveland, O., the fund's founder, is disgruntled. His sweetheart's name hasn't been drawn as yet.

termaster Regiment was making his rounds. He came to an abrupt stop when a very military voice in the darkness ahead of him barked, "Halt!" He waited for the sentry's order to advance and be recognized —but no order came. Trying to be helpful the officer asked if there wasn't something else. In anguish, the voice from the darkness replied, "Yes, sir—but stay right where you are till I can think of it!"

"Off with the Old Love, On with—Death"

IDA JEMME

When Ida Jemme said good-bye to Pete Jemme and left the divorce court she was smiling. Ahead of her, she thought, was a gay life, a life of freedom, of night-clubs and gaming tables—and men.

But Ida Jemme was wrong. For ahead of her lay death—death from five bullets, death that followed one of her "dates."

Who had shot Ida Jemme? What about her tryst in the cemetery and the youth who took her there? What about her former husband, her family? Here is a story told with all the stark drama of truth—because it is true, in every detail, because it is a story of an actual police investigation, sensational, intriguing, alive. Don't fail to read, "Off with the Old Love, on with—Death," the story of the search for Ida Jemme's killer. It's in the November issue of Intimate Detective Stories Magazine, on sale now.

Praises Chest Plan For City

President Of Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Co. Supports Program

W. KEITH McAFEE

The Community Chest method of substituting one solicitation for separate drives in behalf of each member organization has been found to be a sound and efficient way of providing funds to those institutions who unfortunately cannot charge the full cost of their services. If they attempted to do so, their services would be out of reach of the very people who needed them most.

Conservation of time and energy is more important than ever at the present time. The 1941 campaign should be supported and the solicitors helped in every way to bring it to a speedy close.

Special thought should be given to the campaign this year. Nearly everyone is busy directly or indirectly on the job of building the defense of our country. Nearly everyone is facing higher personal taxes. There may be a disposition on the part of some to neglect our local institutions, because the government, as an emergency measure, became active in a few humanitarian fields, but the right to have our institutions as independent and locally controlled units in this democracy of ours is one of the things we are struggling to maintain. We must not neglect them while we are doing it.

BRIDGE REPAIRS

Steel is arriving for the repairs to the Cherry street bridge and work will start Monday morning. County Commissioner William R. Walton stated Thursday. The contract is held by Ortman and Co., of Meadville, Pa.

In order to make the repairs the bridge must be closed for about two months Mr. Walton said and notices will be posted at the roads leading to the bridge.

The deck or roadbed of the bridge will be of the open steel grid type, something new in bridge construction but said to be an improvement. Rain and snow drop through and leave the surface free for travel with less hazard.

British Secrets Housed In Small British Village

Vital Secrets Of Armed Forces Known Only To Few

TRAIN MEN IN NEWEST METHODS

By LOWELL BENNETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Some of the greatest secrets of the British armed forces are locked in a redbrick building in a small English country town. The building is used as the headquarters of a training group of the R. A. F. Army Cooperation Command, and it is here that the Organization and planning is prepared and controlled for training officers and men to develop new or improved method of warfare.

Parachute Training Center
All of these units are playing a useful part in the Air Force and Army co-operation, but one of the most important establishments for which the group is responsible is the training center of the British parachute troops.

Here the R. A. F. develop the parachute equipment, instruct the troops in the use of parachutes and the art of dropping, and teach them air technique.

To the army falls the duty of selecting the parachuteists—every one a volunteer—providing their weapons, and giving them tactical training for ground fighting.

Nowhere in Britain is there a better example of close cooperation between the Air Force and the Army than at this station of the special Air Service Troops.

Entirely different work is done at another station at which new and highly successful methods of artillery observation have been tried out by R. A. F. pilots who "spot" for the gunners from the air and by an ingenious wireless system, direct the fire of batteries on to the enemy objective.

Air Observation Tests
Effective tests are also being carried out in the use of air observation artillery officers, and at one unit, experiments are being undertaken with radio-location devices.

Elsewhere is a center for the development by special army formations of new and more deadly anti-aircraft fire—a center where the

R. A. F. supply targets are the most numerous for they also provide practice for men training with the artillery not only with target towing flights, but with the famous British (automatically-operated) "Queen Bees."

These cooperation units are occupied too, with ways of destroying dive-bombers and exercises are now taking place, combined with lessons learned from the experiences of the battles of France and Britain, in Greece, Crete, and the Middle East, to make the lot of the enemy dive-bomber as unpleasant as possible.

Anti-Aircraft Training
The training of the British anti-aircraft gunners equips them with the latest devices and information concerning the new aerial strategy. Nearly all of this training is carried on by these units.

At a school of army cooperation training, intelligence officers learn how to become air liaison officers. They form the link between an Army Cooperation Squadron and Army headquarters and their task is to "brief" pilots for aerial missions required by the army.

The reconnaissance over, they report back to the army on the information the pilot has gathered.

Instructors at the school are officers fully acquainted with the specialized role of the Army Cooperation Command, and they manage to do an unspectacular job uncommonly well.

Eucharistic Night Will Be October 12

Bishop Boyle To Address Holy Name Men At Religious Gathering, At Forbes Field

On Sunday, October 12, "Eucharistic Night" will be held at Forbes Field at 7:30 o'clock, this religious demonstration to be under the auspices of the Holy Name Society of the Diocese of Pittsburgh. Rev. Fr. Alvin W. Forney is the director of the society, and His Excellency, the Most Rev. Hugh C. Doyle, D. D., will officiate.

Due to world conditions, a larger crowd is expected at this demonstration than either of the two previous celebrations when more than 80,000 men gathered.

The only speaker that evening, in addition to Bishop Boyle, will be the Most Reverend Bernard J. Sheil, D. D., Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago, and Director General of the Catholic Youth Organization of the Chicago Archdiocese.

DRIVER ESCAPES WHEN TRUCK FALLS 30 FEET

Louis Primavera, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Primavera, of Edenburg, had a miraculous escape from serious injury on Wednesday, when the truck loaded with bricks, that he was driving upset backwards over a 30 foot ravine into 20 feet of water.

Fortunately, Primavera jumped in time to escape serious injuries.

If a kid "goes wrong," he usually has reason to believe that nobody gives a darn.

Unique Police Force Carries No Firearms

Los Angeles District Patrolled By Unarmed Guards

(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Calif.—A police force without firearms—with the motto: "If a man can't talk his way out of trouble he doesn't belong on our force."

Heading this unique squad of 89 special officers, deputized by the City of San Diego, and 38 boys ranging in age from 7 to 13, is Richard Brimacombe, chief of Linda Vista Guards.

Brimacombe, one-time postmaster of Butte, Mont., and Butte city clerk and school board clerk, claims Linda Vista has the only law enforcement group of its kind in the country—protection without arms.

The police force rounded up the most promising youngsters in the newly expanding community to organize the Kearny Mesa Junior patrol, with the primary function of assisting in the "good neighbor policy" adopted by the group.

Each boy is presented with a badge and the imposing commission to "preserve order, to encourage better observance of the law, to protect the aged, the young and the infirm from harm, to avoid and prevent danger from traffic hazards, to render first aid and call assistance in case of injury, and to report to the nearest officer or police station anything which requires attention as tending to keep his neighborhood from becoming a better, safer, cleaner community."

"All-Out" Taxation Urged For Nation

Secretary Of Treasury Urges Paying For Defense Without Inflation

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau on Thursday called for a program of "all-out" taxation, as an indispensable method of paying for defense without inflation.

Morgenthau pointed out that while defense expenditures have now risen to more than a billion and a quarter dollars a month, and are still rising, "they will be utterly inadequate compared to the need." He said it would require an all-out effort "on our part" to tip the scales in this war.

"It is imperative that we set aside a great part of the national income, and especially the increase in the national income, if we are to put an effective brake upon inflation," Morgenthau told the annual convention of the American Bankers Association.

The secretary termed defense defense taxes "modest" but declared that the nation is now feeling "all the preliminary symptoms of a serious price inflation."

To check this trend, he said, the tax bill next year will have to be a genuinely all-out bill if it is to raise the necessary revenue and "take the profit out of war."

"It will require every ounce of strength that our giant industrial system can give," the treasury head said. "It will demand sweat and sacrifice on the part of producers, workers, managers and consumers alike. And it will mean the greatest public expenditure that has ever been pumped into the arteries of our economic system."

SAYS LOW-COST GAS MASKS WILL BE AVAILABLE

(International News Service)
INDIAN TOWN GAP, Pa.—Chemical officers at the U. S. Military Post here, where the famous 28th Division is encamped, predict that gas masks will soon be made available to the public at small cost.

Army orders for soft training type masks are practically filled and rubber companies are now about ready to manufacture civilian masks, which are well-fitted for civilian use, are used by the army merely for training purposes.

For actual fighting conditions, a tougher combat mask is employed. Production of these will soon get under way.

Each soldier is being equipped with a gas mask, it was disclosed. "We aim to have the soldiers thoroughly prepared," said a 28th division officer, who added that "the average civilian will get to a store for a mask about three jumps ahead of the gas."

SEES GREAT ERA OF PROSPERITY WHEN WAR ENDS

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 3.—Contrary to widely expressed opinion the belief is held by Prof. Charles Edward Winslow, formerly of Yale University, that unequalled prosperity and opportunity will arise from the present European conflict.

Winslow, lecturing in this fall at the University of California, declared: "Assuming that Hitler is defeated, the young people of today can look forward to great opportunities and a very exciting and promising world in which the United States must obviously for its own sake play a leading role."

An international authority on public health and housing problems, Winslow has studied the populations of Europe, Asia and Latin America in his work as medical director of the League of Red Cross Societies and a member of the Health Committee of the League of Nations.

PORT OF CHICAGO IS ENJOYING A SHIPPING BOOM

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Sea charters fill the air along the Chicago water front these days, indicating that the Port of Chicago is enjoying a shipping boom.

A view of the Port of Chicago reveals thousands of men loading and unloading ships, hauling cargoes over rail-studded docks, handling screaming winches or standing watch through the hours of darkness.

The Port of Chicago comprises the industrial and commercial heart of the city, including the Chicago Rivers, the Sanitary and Ship Canal the Calumet Sag channel, Lake Calumet and Calumet harbor. In this area, and consumed mostly within this area, during 1939 came 16,761,760 tons of cargo. In 1940 this tonnage reached 19,894,060 tons with an additional 433,353 tons that passed through the port in transit to others points.

Bell Employees Will Have Rally

Pennsylvania and Delaware
District Workers To Hear
Noted Speakers On Hookup

LOCAL WORKERS TO MEET IN CATHEDRAL

Employees of the Bell Telephone system in Pennsylvania and Delaware will gather simultaneously in 19 key cities in the area on Wednesday evening, October 8, when microphones and loudspeakers, connected by a telephone network, will unite the widely scattered meetings into one great assembly in a huge defense rally.

The challenge confronting the Bell organization today and the opportunities telephone men and women have of serving in the present emergency will be underscored by high ranking government, military, industrial and telephone officials who will talk briefly over the network from different points. The talks will be interspersed with music and movies.

At New Castle, assembly point for telephone workers throughout this territory, the rally will be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral. Plans for the rally were announced today by Paul J. Baldwin, district manager for the Bell Company. As at all other rally points, virtually every telephone man and woman who is off duty will be present.

The other simultaneous meetings will be held at Allentown, Altoona, Brookline, Greensburg, Harrisburg, Hazleton, Lancaster, McKeesport, Norristown, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Pottsville, Reading, Scranton, Warren, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport and Wilmington, Del.

Speakers will include William H. Harrison, director of production in the Office of Production Management, who will talk from his desk in Washington, and Andrew W. Robertson, chairman of the board of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, who will talk from Pittsburgh. Speaking over the telephone network from Convention Hall, Philadelphia, will be Brigadier General Dawson Olmstead, chief signal officer, U.S. Army; Read Admiral A. E. Watson, commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard and of the 4th Naval District, and Philip C. Staples, president of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

The first four men will talk about what the government, what a defense industry, and what the army and the navy expect of the Bell organization in the present national emergency. Mr. Staples will respond on behalf of the telephone organization.

Official Board Meets At Church

Reports were heard, and plans were made for the year's work when members of the official board, their husbands and wives, numbering about 75, gathered in the First Methodist church Thursday evening at 6:30 for dinner. The meeting was opened with prayer by R. L. Meermans, after which a tasty menu was served by ladies of the church. A song service was led by Asa Hoffmaster with Mrs. J. N. Kerr as the accompanist.

Organization took place with the following being elected: chairman, Rev. W. V. McLean; vice chairman, John A. Butler; financial secretary, J. Carl Miner; assistant, W. A. Myers; treasurer, R. L. Meermans.

SEEK TO END HOTEL STRIKE IN PITTSBURGH

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—A committee of five men met again today to put the finishing touches to a peace plan which may bring an end to the strike that has closed the doors of eight leading Pittsburgh hotels since Monday midnight.

A preliminary draft of the peace formula, calling for individual classification of wages, was worked out at a seven-hour meeting in Mayor Cornelius D. Scully's office. The meeting ended shortly after one o'clock this morning.

The formula, after completion, will be presented to the representatives of the Pittsburgh Hotels Association, and the AFL-Hotel and Restaurant Employees' International Alliance for approval.

Federal Conciliator John A. Moffitt and Mayor Scully are backing the plan.

Involved in Mystery

Ex-Governor Rivers

Mrs. Thora Bikle

Police in Valdosta, Ga., are attempting to solve the mystery of why a man, identified as Horace W. Bikle, invaded the home of former Governor E. D. Rivers of Georgia, assaulted Rivers and his wife in an apparent kidnap attempt and then committed suicide as police pursued him. In a suicide note, police said Bikle attacked Rivers' conduct in the governor's office. Mrs. Bikle is pictured as she left her New York home after being notified that her husband had committed suicide.

PLAN EXCHANGE OF 1,500 WOUNDED WAR PRISONERS

coast of England, the name withheld for military reasons, they were putting the finishing touches today on a plan for exchange of wounded British and German soldiers, the first touch of mercy to a war which thus far has been waged without a trace of it.

Twenty-five months ago this very day the conflict began.

Twenty-five months ago the English Channel had its baptism of fire.

Twenty-five months ago the first Spitfires, the first Messerschmitts, the first Heinkels went aloft for combat.

Since that time these troubled waters have known no respite. Ships have burned and foundered and split apart in its depths. Men have died in its waves.

Slim Path Of Peace

But from sunrise until sunset tomorrow, and from dawn to dusk on Sunday, there is going to be a slim path of peace between England and Germany. Fifteen hundred severely wounded Germans are going to be sent to their Fatherland. Fifteen hundred battered Englishmen are coming home.

It took a lot of doing to arrange this thing, and the United States embassy in London was believed responsible. Even at noon today, the German long-range guns planted at Calais and Boulogne opened up on a convoy in the Channel, visible and audible evidence that the silence and peace decided upon for this weekend will be of swift-passing brevity. Doctors and nurses and fleets of ambulances are waiting now for the zero hour. Sixty minutes before dawn tomorrow, the guns will be silenced and planes will be grounded in the narrow area selected for the voyages of mercy and ships under full flood-light will set out across waters cleared of mines with 1,500 "Jerries" shot down in England or captured on the battlefronts, all of them badly wounded.

When these ships come back—unmolested by warships or planes or submarines—they will carry an equal number of Englishmen. Everything, on both sides, is being done and will be done for their comfort.

CHEST LEADERS ARE CONFIDENT

clude a number of county workers under Errol Fullerton, county division chairman. In most cases, the work of the agencies, financed by the chest extends throughout the county, and it is expected that county residents will do their part in helping thru the Chest campaign to support these agencies.

With industrial payrolls at a new high in the community, a fine response is anticipated from industrial workers, as an evidence of the part labor is playing in the upbuilding of the community. Industrial heads and workers have indicated that all elements in the industrial life of the city will meet their responsibility in raising the funds necessary.

Since those who disagree stay away, and those who come applaud the speaker naturally assumes that everybody agrees with him.

OATS GROW ON CORN
(International News Service)
PULASKI, N. Y.—Succotash is defined as a stew of corn and lima beans, but what would one call a mixture of oats and corn? Especially when the oats are growing on the ear of corn. Dean Richardson, proprietor of the Randall Hotel, discovered such a freak of nature on his farm in the old Mexico road. On the end of an ear of corn there were 20 beads of oats as well developed as were the kernels of corn farther down the cob.

SEEK TO REDUCE LOSSES CAUSED
BY FOOD SPOilage
(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del. — DuPont company scientists were busy today on a broad research program aimed at reducing $100,000,000 annual spoilage losses added to the nation's food bill by molds and bacteria.

Work thus far at the firm's new food research laboratory has resulted in use of "propionates" mold resistors present in small amounts in many food products—by the baking and dairy industries. This substance slows up growth of molds and lengthens the period of "wholesomeness".

DIMES HAVE THEIR USE
(International News Service)
BOGALUSA, La.—Morris Williams, a local merchant who is regarded as "dime-crazy" by others of the townfolk, has turned his mania for collecting that type of specie to profitable advantage. So great has been Williams' enthusiasm for chasing down dimes—which are relatively scarce in the Deep South—that he recently purchased a $100 "baby bond" for his 17-month-old baby. This, in addition to his purchase (with dimes) of a delivery truck for his store and a new auto for the wife.

Newspapers Are Major Industry In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Oct. 3.—National Newspaper Week (October 1 to 8) this year finds the newspapers of Pennsylvania faced with an enlarged opportunity of acting as the people's pilot in stormy economic seas, the State Department of Commerce suggested today.

"Newspapers, already a great economic force in Pennsylvania, have a new economic role to play in the present period of defense production and of crucial shortages of certain articles in widespread consumer demand," said Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James.

"Through their advertising and news columns over a period of years, the newspapers have familiarized the public with products which now have come to be considered as necessities. In the same manner, the newspapers of Pennsylvania will familiarize the people with new products which are appearing today, and will create a demand and market for them. These new products include some which are arising to meet new needs and others which are being devised to take the place of long established articles not so readily available now."

In addition to its educational effect and civic leadership activities, Secretary James pointed out, newspaper publishing makes a vital contribution to the economic life of Pennsylvania because it has advanced to the position of one of the major industries in the state. The annual income of the 595 Pennsylvania dailies and weeklies now exceeds $75,000,000.

The entire printing industry, including commercial print shops as well as newspapers, employs approximately 40,000 Pennsylvanians at an annual payroll of more than $66,000,000. These plants have more than $130,000,000 invested in buildings and equipment and turn out a product valued at approximately $175,000,000 a year.

Pennsylvania's first newspaper was the American Weekly Mercury, established in 1719 by Andrew Bradford, postmaster of Philadelphia. Benjamin Franklin began publishing the state's second newspaper, The Pennsylvania Gazette, in 1729, also in Philadelphia. In 1796 The Pittsburgh Gazette was established as western Pennsylvania's first newspaper.

Today weeklies predominate in number, with 460, but the state's 135 dailies possess a much larger total circulation. The morning presses of Pennsylvania dailies grind out about 3,500,000 copies a day, and about 2,500,000 copies of Sunday editions.

Pennsylvania (135) and California (133) lead the nation in the number of daily newspapers, but only New York exceeds Pennsylvania in the number of copies of morning and evening papers distributed to keep the public informed.

Tribute To Press By Secretary Hull

Secretary Of State Observes 70th Birthday—Press Presents Birthday Cake

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull celebrating his 70th birthday, Thursday, praised the American press for its faith in the freedom of mankind and its belief in the supreme worth of Christian morality.

Hull paid this tribute to the American press following the presentation to him of a birthday cake by the State Department Correspondents Association at his regular noon-day press conference. Recalling the fact that he has spent 33 years in public life, Hull said he did not feel that statesmen and people here and everywhere realize sufficiently the sacrifices that are required to safeguard the enjoyment of liberty and freedom.

'Take Courage Out Of Cold Storage' Is Advice To Business

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1941—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 3.—To workers, labor leaders and some investors the defense program is proving a real boom. Unfortunately for some small businessmen, including retailers and manufacturers, our increasingly vigorous war effort has spelled losses rather than profits. This situation, complicated with priorities, will however straighten out with the application of a little energy and imagination.

The latest bombshell—to limit profits to 6 per cent of invested capital—could be a body-blow. The small businessman could "get his" through increasing his salary; but he would find his credit shut off and it would be impossible for him to raise more capital. For this, and other reasons, I have no fear of such legislation at this time.

The Nation's Backbone

Many towns have been largely supported by one or two small manufacturing businesses. Cities have profited, too, by groups of small businesses which, because of the diversity of their products, have in times of depression been able to take up some unemployment slack. Small businesses often center around the inventive genius of one man. In the development, manufacture and marketing of some useful article, these small businesses provide relatively steady work for over 2,000,000 families.

Hard work, long hours and nervous energy have kept these small businesses going. They have paid their bills and paid their taxes. Many of these concerns show a long line of family ownership. There is pride in such ownership and a devotion to the management on the part of employees of many years standing. Such concerns have long been a powerful factor in raising America from a back-woods country to the world's foremost industrial nation.

The New Order

Arming the country is changing the pattern of industry. It may be no longer possible for a concern to manufacture what it is best equipped to make or to function as desired by its management. It is said that every concern must sooner or later conform to the new order of business—or else! Unless small businesses can snap out of it, thousands of factories may close and unemployment will rise again. We would have "famine in the midst of plenty."

Two-thirds of our merchants are finding their normal supply of many goods drying up. It is harder to purchase luxuries and many household articles. Consumer goods production will be restricted. This is a natural result of priorities and the further shifting of non-essential production to defense needs. Heavy taxes, together with forced savings, will further reduce retail purchasing power. All this is essential to wartime economy, but it does not help the small businessman.

Careful Planning Required

Small businesses are having a tough time in England. Little has been done in fitting them into that country's war effort. We have not yet fully profited by England's economic mistakes. It is apparent, however, that Washington is trying to find ways of taking care of the small businessman so that his life-time of endeavor may not be forever lost. In the first six months of the war some 20,000 firms in England folded up. Certainly, Washington does not want that to happen here.

The D. C. D. under Floyd Odlum may supply part of the answer. Mr. Odlum is capable and has had broad experience. Brought up in high finance, his difficulty may be in being able to think only in terms of millions whether applicable to dollars or to materials. What the small businessman wants is an approach to his problem in terms of relatively slight requirements. This latter requirement is being met by sub-contracting clinics now being held by O. P. M. throughout the country. Representatives of big companies and owners of small companies are being brought together. Many contracts are signed on the spot. Hence, get in touch with your nearest clinic.

Work For All

It is essential that all manufacturers who can do so enter defense work immediately. There is work for all types who intelligently approach their problem. Nearly all small plants can be converted to some urgently needed defense endeavor. I know of a small truck body manufacturer who cannot obtain steel, bolts or even washers for his regular output. He can, however, make signal corps photographic laboratory trailers!

Another manufacturer who saw present conditions approaching and who could not get materials for his regular lines has filled his small shop with tank and shell loader parts. He has bought some machinery and obtained some on lease from an arsenal. Incidentally, arsenals throughout the country have supplied enormous quantities of surplus machinery and are good for more.

Federal Reserve and R. F. C. Cooperating

Washington recognizes the importance of sub-contracting. This not only speeds up war production, but avoids concentration in large centers and hence eliminates new housing, schools, power and sewer requirements, and additional police and fire protection. These "utilities" are readily available in the towns and cities in which existing small plants are located. The Federal Reserve banks, the R. F. C., and the arsenals are cutting red tape to finance sub-contracting.

Changing from peace to war production will necessitate temporarily giving up some old lines, but it will at least keep plants open. I also insist that many manufacturers will use substitute raw materials for making present products. Perhaps new types of finished products will be made. This is a challenge to Yankee ingenuity. I cannot conceive American or Canadian small business, which in the past has overcome even greater obstacles, falling down now just because someone says, "You cannot have this or you cannot have that." If salesmen lost heart through being kicked out of buyers' offices, our business progress would have ceased long ago. Now it is the employers' turn to "overcome resistance." Yes, let us all take our courage and fighting spirit out of cold storage!

Over $100,000 In School Taxes Paid In Month

City Treasurer C. C. McKibben today reported that the 1941 school tax collection during September was high, $101,400, having been paid. He said that the amount paid reflects working conditions in the city.

McKibben also stated that collectors are making efforts to collect 1940 and 1941 personal taxes. "Because of working conditions" the treasurer asserted "we expect all personal taxes to be paid."

At present there is a penalty of five percent on unpaid 1941 school taxes and four percent on unpaid 1941 city taxes.

McKibben also announced the exact amount collected during the last 10 days auto parking period. He said $1,036.00, had been paid by motorists for the parking privilege.

Dodgers Win, So Tonsils Come Out

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Time, tide and even tonsils wait on them Dodgers.

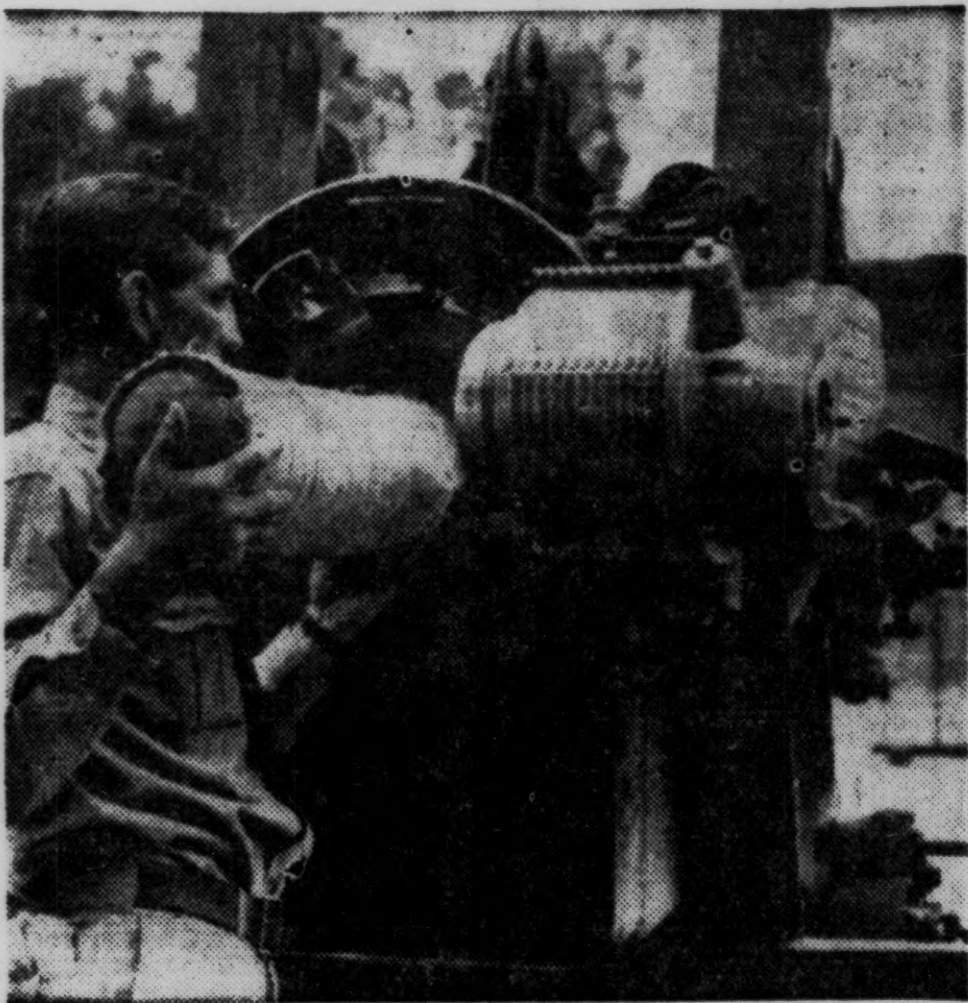

Dr. Meyer J. Simmons had a 12-year-old lad in his office awaiting a tonsilectomy during the ninth inning of yesterday's game.

"Doc," pleaded the boy, "can you wait just 'till this inning's over?" The minutes ticked. The Dodgers won.

The boy settled back happily and grinned: "Go ahead, Doc. I can take the ether easy now."

Mexico Will Get Sixty Million As United States Loan

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—Sixty million dollars will be loaned to Mexico by the United States as soon as final negotiations in Washington are completed, expected within the next few days, the foreign office announced today.

Mexico expects to get further loans and war materials for defense purposes, it was added.

Credits extended by the United States government will be applied to stabilization of the peso, while an approximate $30,000,000 will be used for the construction of highways.

The precise amount of money Mexico will get was not revealed, but it was stated that $9,000,000 will be used as a "token payment" to British and American oil companies whose properties were taken over by the Mexican government.

The money to be paid these oil companies will be decided by a joint board, it was stated.

Cat Brings Home $7,500 Necklace

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—When a cat finds a $7,500 pearl necklace, that news.

Kitkit, a stray cat with black, white and yellow fur, dragged home a string of beads last Wednesday to Mrs. Mary Birdsell, blonde housewife of Rye, N. Y. Mrs. Birdsell, thinking the beads valueless, wore them around the house for a day or so and finally noticed an advertisement announcing the loss of a $7,500 necklace by Mrs. Elgood C. Lufkin, also of Rye. Kitkit's find was part of the lost necklace and Mrs. Birdsell received a $400 reward.

As a result Mrs. Birdsell ordered cream and liver as a reward for Kitkit and photographers arrived at the Birdsell home to take a picture of the animal.

The photographers waited three hours until Kitkit condescended to come home. She posed for her picture and dined on liver and cream and then went away again.

Canonsburg Tax Office Robbed

(International News Service)
CANONSBURG, Pa., Oct. 3.—Southwestern Pennsylvania peace officers were searching today for a clever burglar who took advantage of a noon hour to break into the Canonsburg tax collector's office, escaping undetected with $1,000 in cash.

The thief jimmied the door open while Collector Walter Ollman was at lunch. Ollman said he missed another $1,000 in cash which was hid under a sheaf of legal documents in the safe.

No one, except Engineer D. Abrams, who reported that he had heard no noise, was in the building at the time. Abrams, whose office is above the tax collector's, said he noticed a stranger loitering under the entrance to the building around noon.

Dismiss Prank Of Tech Student

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—James Boyle, 21-year-old Carnegie Tech student who "registered" his girl friend for the draft last July, breathed a sigh of relief today when federal authorities decided not to prosecute the case.

Boyle explained that he had filled out a card in his girl's name only as a prank, and that he had registered in his own name as required by law. The case came to light when the girl involved reported to the draft board that she had received a questionnaire.

Swissvale draft board authorities decided to forget about it.

To Plan Emergency Medical Services In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 3.—State medical and health organization officials will confer at Harrisburg Oct. 14 to formulate plans for emergency medical services in Pennsylvania, the state council of defense announced today.

The council stated that cooperation of the state's physicians, nurses, hospitals, and Red Cross chapters will be sought to establish Medical field units and the training of nurses and first aid workers—particularly in Pennsylvania's heavy industrial areas. The program was sponsored by the U. S. office of civilian defense.

Under the agency's plan, at least one medical field unit is recommended for hospitals in communities up to 25,000 population and first aid instruction under Red Cross supervision for at least five per cent of the personnel of all municipal departments and large business and industrial firms.

Jones Is In Air Service Of Army

Former Local Man Interested In Parachute Jumping In Hawaiian Area

Trevor Jones of Cumberland, Md., formerly of this city, now visiting here, stated that his son, Private John Jones, has been stationed for over a year in Hawaii with the U. S. Air Service.
Jones is much interested in parachute jumping and is looking forward for an opportunity for further practicing. His father states that a couple of years ago he made a jump from an airplane, using a parachute ready for use in the last world war.
Private Jones' cousin, William Jones of south New Castle Boro., returned from Hawaii this year after completing his term in the U. S. service there.
Having been informed that his cousin was in Hawaii, he made much effort to locate him. Coming to a barracks located not far from his own, he enquired of a soldier if he knew a man there named Will Jones of New Castle, Pa., the reply was "I am that fellow", and there was a happy meeting.
Trevor Jones is visiting with his brothers, Adolphus and William H. Jones of this city.

Many State Highways Lead To Scenic Views

HARRISBURG, Oct. 3.—It is expected that about October 15 the entire state will be masked in fall colors, and until the last of the month the southern areas will retain their hues. Mark S. James, secretary of commerce, said today.

Every highway, byway and forest trail offers spectacular views of mountains painted with red, green, gold and brown and the rich color of harvested fields. One of the outstanding lookout points in southwestern Pennsylvania is atop Mount Davis, the state's highest peak with an altitude of 3,213 feet. From a tower visitors may view a vast expanse of scenery especially beautiful at this time of the year.

The Lincoln Highway traverses the southern section from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh. Tourists on this road get a greatly diversified scenic treat in the Lancaster and York county hillsides and in Caledonia park, largest state area, where coloring trees of numerous species are mixed with evergreens.

Along the William Penn Highway (U. S. 22) which follows the winding Juniata river west from a point about 12 miles north of Harrisburg, scenic panoramas touched up by autumn, attract many persons. There are lookout points near Mifflintown, Lewistown, Mount Union, Huntingdon, Hollidaysburg, Crescon, Ebensburg and Blairsville.

Connellsville, on U. S. 119 in southwestern Pennsylvania is picturesquely situated at the foot of the Allegheny mountains on the Youghiogheny river.

WORLD RECORD ENDURANCE KISS

Jane Wyman and Regis Toomey

Here's the world's record endurance kiss—three minutes five seconds—participated in by Regis Toomey and Jane Wyman, film performers. The record was set accidentally during the making of a film when Director Lew Seiler told them to start kissing as he called "action" and then neglected to tell them what he had in mind. Meanwhile, Donald MacBride, playing Jane's father and an army colonel, began a spiel about the superiority of cavalry over mechanized divisions. He talked for three minutes five seconds before he noticed Toomey and Miss Wyman were still in a clinch awaiting Seiler's order to "break."

Estimate 1,000 Death Toll In Anti-Nazi Areas

(International News Service)
A death-toll of at least 1,000 was estimated in London today as the price paid by dissident elements in Nazi-occupied countries since Germany invaded Russia this summer.

As the manifold countries ruled by Adolf Hitler rocked and seethed with incipient rebellion, straining even the abilities of the resourceful Gestapo, dispatches from European capitals intimated that even the most extreme repressive measures had failed to stem the tide of revolt.

Pittsburgh Strike Affects Local Men

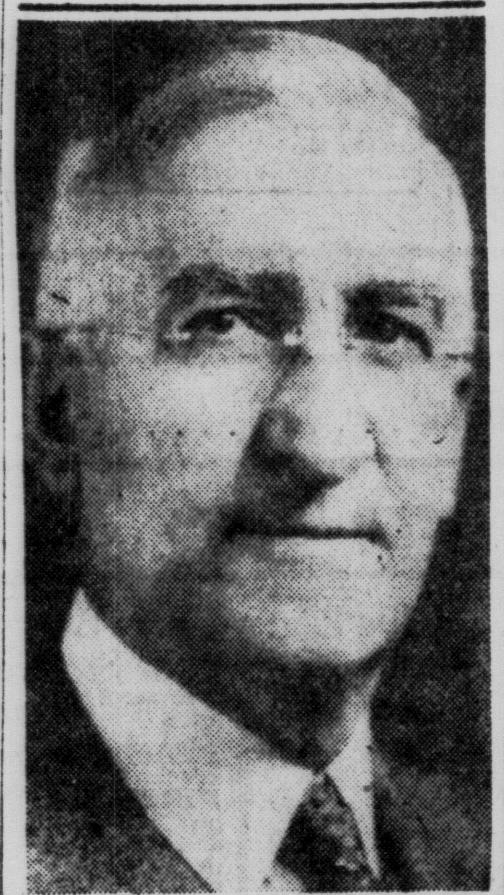

About 15 New Castle filling station employees are affected by the Spur Distributing company strike called in Pittsburgh on Thursday Joe Armond and John Frank spokesmen for the local group, said today.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS SUPPORT CHEST

Head Of Schools Says Continued Support To Be Accorded Community Chest

DR. C. C. GREEN

The public schools of New Castle have supported and will continue to support the Community Chest. The service rendered to the youth of this city by the various character building agencies is an invaluable aid to the schools in their effort to develop character, sound physical health, and good citizenship.

This year we are making a special effort to create in the minds of the public school children a sense of the importance of the organized character building and charitable agencies to the general welfare of their city. The support which the people of any community give to agencies of this type is a fair index to the character of the community itself.

If New Castle is to prosper and reclaim her prestige in Western Pennsylvania all of the people must realize that they have a responsibility to bear. The small group of men and women who give their time and effort to the promotion of these worthy movements cannot bear the burden alone, and it would not be valuable as a community enterprise if they could. They are merely making a personal sacrifice for the good of all.

Cooperation is a vital factor in the democratic way of life. If a few contributors were able and willing to provide all necessary funds for these agencies it would not be the community enterprise and would lose much of its value in the creation of a United New Castle for community prosperity and general welfare.

Young Man Given Workhouse Term, Begs For Mercy

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—Despite a tearful plea for mercy, George Oldham, 27-year-old Clairton resident described as a model Sunday school student, was under sentence of three to six months in the workhouse today for the holdup of a West Elizabeth cafe August 16.

Oldham begged and cried for leniency, claiming that he was intoxicated when he entered the tavern and fired a shot over the head of the proprietor's son, and didn't realize what he was doing. His mother, Mrs. Martha Oldham, collapsed after sentence was pronounced.

Ellwood High Goes To Butler Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 3.—With football stock soaring to a new high in this steel town, Ellwood City's football fandom and the other small per cent will go to Butler tonight to see their favorite gridiron stars perform against a big, fighting, victory-hungry Butler High Golden Tornado, with the opening kick-off at 8 o'clock.

With 15 other schools, Ellwood is still in the AA race and tonight will be their third sectional game. The Blue and White has two sectional victories over Munhall and Rochester. Butler has lost to New Castle and Allegheny and won over Mars.

Several of the Ellwood players took a terrific battering in last week's victory over Rochester and unfortunately they are not all going to be in tip-top shape for tonight's struggle. Most unlikely to see action is the powerful George Moskal, who received a leg injury last week. He hasn't been able to run at all this week and head coach, Thurman P. Croft, said today that he wouldn't expect Moskal if there was the slightest chance that he wasn't in shape to play. While everyone knows that Croft is no griper, he is at a loss to find a replacement for Moskal. It is likely that either Jack McClintick or Al Wilson will fill the position. While both boys are somewhat inexperienced, they are fast and have plenty of fight on the offensive. Just how well they can stand up on the defensive is a matter to be proved, Croft believes.

An unfortunate mishap occurred in Wednesday night's practice session when Nick Dudick, tackle, and Bob Wallace, second string back, both received nasty forehead cuts, which required several stitches. Croft indicated that Dudick would be in his accustomed place tonight. It was thought that Mike Sekulski, originally slated as Ellwood's full-back, who injured his ankle in pre-season practice, would be ready for

Employers Favor Vocational School

Industrial Groups Agree 9 To 1 That Trade Schools Provide Better Workers

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 3.—Results of the vocational school need survey conducted among employers have been tabulated as follows:

A—Industrial and manufacturing group:

1. Employment figures for the ten plants visited personally indicate that Ellwood City industries may reasonably be considered as being able to absorb the bulk of the graduates of a trade and vocational training school in this community if such is established here.
2. Ninety percent of the men employed in the ten largest plants are doing work of a mechanical nature; 86 percent of the women employed in such plants are doing clerical and secretarial work.
3. Such employers are agreed at a ratio of about 9 to 1 that vocational schools contribute to industry by providing better trained applicants for employment.
4. These employers were agreed almost as enthusiastically that a vocational school in Ellwood City would be of great value to them and to the community as a whole.
5. The first four types of vocational training which they felt would be of greatest value and utility were: mechanics, welding, electricity, drafting and blueprint reading, in that order.
6. Such a school in the opinion of these employers would offer opportunities for additional training for their employees in evening and part-time classes.
7. Merchants and small employers:
1. Three out of every four in this group favored the establishment of a vocational training school here.
2. Types of training preferred by this group were commercial, salesmanship, general machine shop practice, and automobile mechanics.
3. Three out of five felt that such a school would offer adequate facilities for part-time and evening classes in which their employees might secure additional training.

Train Disaster Suspect Unshaken Under Questioning

George Presecan, Former Railroad Faces Barrage Of State Police Questions

(International News Service) BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 3.—Unshaken and confident, 29-year-old George Presecan faced another barrage of questions in the Butler State Police barracks today as officers continued their investigation to determine if he had anything to do with the wrecking of the Buckeye Limited in Beaver county last Spring.

Presecan, who was released from the Beaver county jail just 36 hours before the Pennsylvania Railroad train was sabotaged last March 16, insisted police "had nothing on him," and that the whole routine was "silly."

He was brought to Butler from Milwaukee where he was nabbed by State Police Corporal Paul A. Rittelman. He had been employed by the railroad as a trackman and crossing watchman for a short time at Conway, just a short distance from Baden where the Buckeye Limited hit a tampered section of rail at 60 miles an hour and plunged into the Ohio river.

Five persons were killed and 114 others were injured in the accident, which was later blamed officially on sabotage. State police and railroad detectives questioned him yesterday, and planned to continue their grilling today. They also questioned a woman identified as Mary Biller, 28, of Alliquippa, who, police said, joined Presecan in the Middle West after he left Conway, three days after the train wreck.

Police said they were convinced that Miss Biller knew nothing of any sabotage plot.

Seek New Yorker In Fatal Shooting

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Salvatore Sabbatino, wealthy vice-president of a stevedore contracting firm, was sought by thousands of police today after the slaying of Emil Camarda, vice-president of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Camarda was killed following a bitter quarrel in Sabbatino's office on the tenth floor of a lower Broadway skyscraper. Police said Sabbatino escaped by running down the stairs of the building and mingling with the financial district crowds.

Sabbatino and Camarda engaged in a violent argument just previous to the shooting. Witnesses said Sabbatino had upbraided the union leader for "getting jobs for the Irish."

HITLER MAKES SHORT ADDRESS

Number Of Innovations In Speech In Berlin Are Cited By Observers

(International News Service)

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler made personal history in his speech at the Sportspalast in Berlin today in the following respects:

1. For the first time in any of his major addresses, he did not mention the treaty of Versailles, President Wilson's 14 points nor the suffering of Germany in the period after the last war.

2. He did not even allude to President Roosevelt and made only an oblique reference to American defense preparations.

3. He did not threaten invasion of England.

4. He said nothing about the disorders in former Czechoslovakia or of unrest in other occupied territories.

5. He made no mention of Japan, although paying tribute to Premier Mussolini of Italy.

6. He spoke for only little over an hour.

The final proof of decency is to be a writer and think of the wit-tiest of dirty cracks about some innocent guy and not use it.

Cut in 1/4 c. shortening until quite fine. 3. Add about 3/4 c. milk; stir only until flour is dampened. 4. Knead lightly for a few seconds. Feel how soft and tender your dough is—how easy to handle. Sure indications of the delicate, golden-brown Date Fluffs you're going to take out of your oven! We know—because we see these same fine results every day from our own ovens. We test Pillsbury's Best every hour during milling—test it by actual bakings 4 to 6 times a day. It's truly bake-proved, to protect your baking! 5. Roll out into 16x12-inch rectangle. Cut into eight 2-inch strips. Brush each with melted butter. Stack dough in 2 sets of 4 layers each with this filling between strips:

Succulent Date Filling—1. Combine 1 c. sliced dates, 1/4 c. water, 1 tsp. grated orange rind, and 1/4 tsp. cinnamon. Cook until thick enough to spread. 2. Remove from heat; add 1/2 c. chopped nut meats. Chill thoroughly; spread on biscuit base. 3. Slice each set of layers into 6 pieces. 4. Place in greased muffin pans, cut side up. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) about 20 min. Recipe makes a dozen Date Fluffs; bring them warm to the table! One bite—your family's delighted with the light, tender fluffiness of biscuit made with Pillsbury's Best. Two bites—they're raving about the combination of melt-in-the-mouth biscuit and chewy date-nut filling!

Lawrence Auto Sales Puts '42
Cars On View; Lines
Are Sleek

The long, sleek 1942 Buicks, described by the Buick management as the practical and sturdy products designed to carry the Buick name through the period of national emergency, made their appearance here today in showrooms of the Lawrence Auto Sales Co., South Mercer and South streets.

The company has released six new lines covering a wide price range from the lower to the upper medium brackets and embodying outstanding mechanical as well as appearance improvements.

They are in no sense "ersatz models," Lawrence Auto officials said. On the contrary, they represent substantial advancement in mechanical design at the same time carrying out new and advanced style trends that were experimentally produced in co-operation with General Motors styling section nearly two years ago.

Exceptional style treatment characterizes the new cars. Completely redesigned hood, radiator grille and other front end sheet and trim provide a graceful frontal appearance which at the same time represents improvement in functional design. Beautiful floral decorations surround the cars. The showroom will also be open Sunday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

DEFENSE BOOM IS BOON TO CONVICTS

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—The national defense boom is proving a boon to California convicts. Jobs, a prerequisite to parole, once scarce and hard to get, are now to be had almost for the asking, thanks to the up-sweep in employment. Prisoners who once stayed in prison for months after being granted paroles, for lack of employment to go to, now have jobs that gain their release the day their paroles become effective.

However, they don't get jobs in defense industries. Defense plants won't employ them. They get the jobs of men who have left other plants to go into defense work.

Insurance Luncheon Speaker Announced

Robert R. Dodson, Pittsburgh branch manager of the General American Life Insurance Co., will speak to the New Castle branch of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters' association at a luncheon in The Castleton Thursday, Oct. 9.

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Oct. 3.—A group of Mercer High school students next week will start receiving instructions in baton twirling in a course to be taught by Miss Jean Bartsch, New Castle, a junior at Westminster college. Those enrolled in the class will give exhibitions at high school basketball games next winter and drum majorettes will be chosen from a group to appear with high school band.

Cecil Bowles, director of the band and music instructor at the high school, announced today that a series of Friday night dances is being planned as a benefit for the band's instrument fund.

Ten Westminster college seniors in the school of music this week staged practice teaching at local schools.

Wondering about the 1942 cars?

Here is Buick's superb solution to the problems posed by making our national defense, as it should be, industrial America's No. 1 job

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building a Peace & Victory valve-in-head aircraft engines for defense use.

IT WAS no time to duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try.

Instead we said—these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car—certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One we could be proud of. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve till annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

Now we're announcing those 1942 cars.

Why waste words telling you how good they are! You can't put language in the gas tank and learn either how many or how enjoyable are the miles you'll get per gallon.

There's a better answer—you drive these cars themselves. Come on, do that! Put your own yardstick on their quality.

It would be a shame, for you and for us, to have you miss the dreadnaught Buick we've built to stand up successfully to the toughest job in years.

No other car has ALL THIS FOR YOU IN 'FORTY-TWO

SPECIAL SCREEN PAINT

A screen door or window screen lasts longer and looks better if it is kept well painted at all times, but the home owner should remember that if ordinary paint is used, it should be thinned out considerably to avoid clogging up the mesh. A number of special screen paints are on the market. One treatment, well known to decorators, is placing a coat of thin white paint on the screen to make the interior of the house less visible from the outside.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

DEEP LITTER PRACTICAL FOR MANY POULTRYMEN

Wet litter and frequent changing during the winter months is one of the poultry raisers most serious problems. Adequate ventilation will aid in keeping the litter dry. However, proper management is essential in order to provide a satisfactory condition of the floor cover. The house set on posts with a wooden floor and exposed underneath is likely to give the most trouble from wet litter in winter.

As some kind of grain is grown on most Pennsylvania farms, straw is the most practical material to use. Difficulty with damp litter which requires frequent cleaning is the experience of many poultry raisers using straw. Much of this trouble could be avoided if a built-up litter was started in late summer or early fall, by placing a small amount of straw on the floor when the pullets are housed. As this becomes broken, more straw must be added until there is a layer of fine, broken material about six inches deep. This serves as insulation to the floor and is especially desirable with wooden-floored houses. It is necessary to build this litter prior to cold weather and as long as it remains dry it should not be cleaned until the weather moderates in the spring.

Stirring of the litter to prevent the formation of hard wet lumps is especially important. Small amounts of grain scattered in the litter daily will stimulate the chickens to keep it well stirred. Furthermore, the litter should be worked over with a fork or potato hook to keep it evenly distributed and to keep the front part of the floor well covered. If a layer of coarse material forms over the top of the dry fine litter, the coarse layer can be removed, permitting small amounts of fresh litter to be added. Wet spots frequently develop around water containers and wet portions should be removed and dry litter spread in the clean-out area.

When pullets are housed late in the fall, cold weather comes too quickly to permit the building of a well broken litter to sufficient depth. For this reason finer materials should be used where late hatched birds are housed.

The best success can be obtained from deep litter when the following suggestions are followed: have adequate ventilation, start to build up the litter early in the fall, use only small quantities at the beginning, prevent damp litter around water fountains, avoid letting the litter get too deep, and keep it stirred and evenly distributed.

GREEN VEGETABLES MAY BE RIPENED IN STORAGE

Each year just before frost is expected, tomatoes, peppers and eggplants in home gardens and in larger plantings are loaded with fully developed but green fruits which can be removed and stored for several weeks or even a month.

The storage conditions for these three crops are essentially the same. Allow the fruits to remain on the plants until frost is expected. Remove these fruits for storing that have reached full size and are free from bruises. Immature fruits will not keep well and will be poor in quality. Place the fruits in a single layer on shelves in a cellar where conditions are cool and slightly moist to prevent drying out. Individual fruits may be wrapped in soft tissue or other paper. Proper conditions for holding such fruits are cool (50 degrees Fahrenheit or lower) slightly humid or moist and in semi-darkness. When ripening is desired bring the fruits to full light and increase the temperature to about 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

Where only a few plants are concerned protection may be given from the first frost by covering the plants. Some folks pull up the entire plant just before frost and hang the plants with fruit attached in the cellar, shed or barn. The weakness of this method is excessive drying.

IMPROVED LIGHTS AID FARM WORK

Taking full advantage of recent improvements in lighting facilities will be found very helpful in doing work about the farmstead.

Good lighting has reduced the time of doing chores at least one-fifth, according to recent studies. Better light has also been found advantageous for such operations as potato grading since eyestrain from glare can be reduced. Growers claim that a good light installation greatly improves grading facilities.

Pennsylvania farmers who have used new lighting supplied by silvered bottom bulbs beneath a white reflecting disk combined with the use of a shade find them very satisfactory in the home. R. L. M. dome reflectors for use in farm buildings also add to the efficiency of the lighting system.

Details on lighting can be secured from the U. S. D. A. Farmer's Bulletin 1838, "Electric Lighting for the Farmstead", which is available from the local Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle. This also includes information on remodeling old lighting installations and equipment.

Some further lighting information as to the efficiency of different size bulbs and proper wiring to get a satisfactory utilization can be had from extension circular 215, "Wiring for the Farm" which may be secured from the Agricultural Extension office, New Castle.

KILL ORCHARD MICE WITH POISON BAIT

A large mice population is expected in fruit orchards this fall and, as a control, poison bait is suggested.

Large numbers of mice are usually prevalent every four to six years. Then the number drops off sharply and gradually builds up to another peak. Since 1938 was a low year many of these little pests will probably be found this fall. This means that a carefully planned and well executed program will be necessary for the protection of orchard trees.

A wide variety of methods of tree protection have been tried with varying degrees of success, but when properly carried out the use of poisoned bait has been most effective. Success in the use of poisoned bait has been most effective. Success in the use of poisoned bait depends in a large measure upon the way in which it is distributed in the orchard. Bait placed in tin cans, milk bottles, etc., in exposed locations is seldom eaten by the mice because of their natural tendency to keep always under good cover.

By contrast, the bait is most readily taken when it is placed directly in the runways or trails and holes made and used by the mice. A bundle of corn fodder placed on good cover in the infested area between now and the end of October will serve as an excellent place to concentrate the mice so that they may be readily poisoned during late October or November.

A number of different baits, prepared in different ways, have been successfully used. Perhaps the greatest secret of success is to put the bait in the orchard in such a way that all mice will be certain to find it quickly.

Orchard protection is more completely discussed in Extension Circular 217, which may be obtained from the local Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle.

NEAT USEFUL ARTICLES WIN JUDGES APPROVAL

Homemakers in Lawrence county, who understand the qualities of prize winning exhibits in needlework are bringing home prize ribbons from fairs.

These homemakers know that standards of judging are high. They know that the judge considers the worth of the article, its beauty and its construction before she places the ribbons.

Besides these factors, the judge insists that the article must be useful enough to warrant the time and energy spent in making it. The article also must be suited to the use to which it is to be put, according to Miss Bonita Gordon, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county.

She points out that a blue ribbon pillowcase will be simply decorated, well-made by machine or by hand, and of firm material that can be laundered. The one highly embroidered with loose bright threads seldom has a chance at fairs these days especially when there is competition.

In design, simplicity ranks high. The judge prefers the design that conforms to the shape of the article, good spacing and conventional design.

Homemakers know that the choice of color for an article is essential. They use dull, quiet tones for large pieces. This is especially important when making rugs, for some harmonious colors are more pleasing and restful than bright or too delicate colors for floor rugs. Household linens are smartest when plain or simply initialed in soft tones or pastel colors, Miss Gordon says.

The judge also considers workmanship when she selects blue ribbon articles. Stitching must be neat, firm and appropriate to the material. Articles made with these points in mind are attractive and desirable.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR HOME-MAKERS TO:

1. Start putting away summer clothes, washed and unstarched.
2. Make an intensive study of good school lunches and pass your findings along to others who pack lunches.
3. Take an inventory of the wool blankets and other bed coverings.
4. Preserve late garden vegetables and fruits for winter needs.
5. Make a few jars of spiced watermelon pickles as a special treat for the family.
6. Try cooking whole cereals—they're economical and good for healthy bodies.
7. See that each child in the family gets at least a quart of milk a day.
8. Have children who walk to school wear a bright colored sweater, scarf, hair ribbon or cap so that motorists can see them more easily.
9. Check fall and winter wardrobes for each member of the family.
10. After school or over the weekend, take advantage of sunny days and go on a picnic.

GETTING TO BE A HABIT
(International News Service)
PHILIPSTON, Mass., Oct. 3.—It's getting to be a habit, mused Ralph H. Ward from his bed, where he was recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident. For Ward, it was the second time in four years the farm tractor and trailer he was driving was involved in a collision at the same intersection with the same truck.

NEW CASTLE AND SHARON PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Ancient Rivals Awaiting Kickoff

New Castle Hopes To Win 18th Straight Tonight; Sharon New Castle Series One Of Oldest On Local Card; Sharon Seeks First Win Here; New Castle Team In Good Shape; Expect Crowd Of Close To 9,000.

RENEWING a football relationship that began 29 years ago, New Castle High "Red Hurricane" will play the Sharon High Tigers at Taggart Stadium tonight. The kickoff at 8 o'clock will find a large crowd in the stands, in the event of good weather.

New Castle will be trying for its 18th in a row, and its fifth of the current season, while the Sharonites have lost their only three starts so far this season. Despite this fact, though, the game is expected to be one of the best of the year, and a real battle can be looked for. The ancient rivals always battle harder when they clash than at any other time.

A crowd of around 9,000 fans for tonight's embroglio. Sharon will be supported here by over 1,000 fans and students. A New Castle-Sharon game always catches the fancy of the fans.

Fans are asked to not forget the tax that will be applied on the tickets tonight due to the new Federal revenue bill. Pass holders, too, must remember to enter gate No. 3. The bleacher fans will all enter from the Cunningham avenue gate. The main gates open at seven o'clock. The student gate at 6:30 o'clock.

Both the New Castle and Sharon bands have completed preliminary drilling and will present various spectacular drills and songs, always an interesting part of any football game. We'll be seeing you.

Band To Stage Special Event

The New Castle band under the direction of Joe Replogle will stage a brand new drill at Taggart Stadium tonight between halves of the New Castle-Sharon game, it was announced.

The band of 100 pieces will march on the field and form a gigantic clock with the hands reading 1890 and then the band will play "The Band Played On" popular in those days, then the band will come out of this formation and form a gigantic clock again with the numerals reading 1941 and the band will then play the New Castle High School alma mater song.

The musicians have worked hard this week to perfect the special and spectacular event. The Drum Majorettes also will take part in the drill as well as girls of the Senior High Athletic department who will be dressed in old-fashioned clothes worn back in 1890.

BOUTS AT ELLWOOD NEXT WEDNESDAY

There were no fistic bouts in Ellwood City last night, as stated yesterday. The boxing show at Ellwood City is next Wednesday night.

Colored Speedster Races For Three Touchdowns On Slippery Field

WASHINGTON DOWNS SHARPSVILLE 26 TO 0

Albert Knight, the George Washington Junior High sensational young colored halfback, covered himself with more glory yesterday afternoon on a wet turf at Washington High field by registering three touchdowns as Wash High trimmed Sharpsville Junior High 26 to 0.

It was the second win of the season for the North Hillers and the second time that this boy Knight has been "poison" to the opposition. In the two games this season Knight has scored five touchdowns to be the leading junior high scorer in the city.

Knight Races Over

The first Washington High touchdown was made by Knight when he intercepted a Sharpsville pass and raced through a broken field for 60 yards and the "pay-dirt." Doyle converted the extra-point. Knight also made the second touchdown for the Alexander-coached machine in the tail-end of the first period, racing 50 yards after very cleverly reversing his field. The extra point failed. The third touchdown was a swell 20-yard run by E. Brothers when he cut-off tackle with fine blocking and raced over. The extra point again failed. The first half ended 19 to 0.

The second half was played in a sea of mud, but mid-way in the fourth period Knight registered his third touchdown running around right end. Doyle converted the extra point. The Wash. High team was greatly improved over the previous week, with the entire line playing a great defensive and offensive game. E. Brothers and Knight did the best ball totting. The visitors never once threatened the Wash. High goal line.

Next Thursday Washington High will play the Farrell Junior High team at Farrell.

GAME POSTPONED

COLUMBUS — Thursday's Little World Series game between Columbus and Montreal was postponed on account of rain. Columbus needs but one more triumph to cop the championship.

Series Teams On Edge For Finale

West Pittsburg And Moose Will Play Sunday At Marshall Field

Both the West Pittsburg and Moose Club teams are on edge for the championship finale at Marshall Field on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock (weather permitting).

Each team has won one game in the "Little World Series." The West Pittsburg "Gas House" team will probably start Joe "Screech" Dombeck with the Moose choosing Rainey or Johns. Manager Danny DeGenova will have the dependable Mike Marky in reserve if Dombeck gets in trouble.

In the event of a nice day upwards of 3,000 fans will no doubt see the final game of the 1941 baseball season here.

Boxers To End Heavy Training

Baxter And Moran Meet Worthy Opponents Here Tuesday Night

Time is drawing nigh when Russell Baxter, 155, and Frankie Moran, 135, regarded as the best prospects developed here in some time, will cut out heavy training and "edge off" for their battles Tuesday night in the Arena. Russell is scheduled to battle Johnny Como, Erie district champion, and Moran is docketed to oppose Julius Walt, a good scrapper from Cecil.

Russell has often been likened to Billy Conn in the latter's early days. Russell has speed, science, punch, courage and ringcraft. One must possess these essentials to succeed. Como is the toughest foe he has yet been matched with.

The Moran vs. Walt match should be filled with action and one of them is apt to be knocked out. Moran has been showing exceptional progress and the fight with Walt will be his acid test. If he can get over Walt he will be ripe for anyone in the amateur game or the not too prominent in professional ranks.

Docket Of Good Amateurs

The card teams with stars. For instance, Tommy Saunders who defeated Smokey Robinson, will fight Melion Donelli, and Ossie Pegese will take on Joey Perrone who made a hit here. The Leasures, Les and Baby Face, will fight Burrell Hasebrigg and Frank Halicke.

There'll be eight bouts on the card which is being staged by the Jefferson Athletic club to raise funds which will be given the widow of the late Mike Di Muccio, once a grid star at New Castle High, to devote to bills contracted during his illness and funeral. Mayor Charles B. Mayne, a devotee of all sports, is acting as chairman of the performance.

KNOCKABOUT MODEL

Made of Imported Wool

The British Knockabout Model is an Emancipation Proclamation in topcoats for all men. Here's what it gives you:

- FREEDOM OF THE KNEES because of the flared fullness of the skirt.
- FREEDOM OF THE SHOULDERS because of the specially designed cut of the armhole.
- FREEDOM OF THE ARMS — same reason as above!

It is a coat so free and easy you hardly know you are wearing it!

Since the fabric is loomed of imported wool, Knit-tex has a luxury look as well

Dodgers Even Up Series By Topping Yanks

Score Is 3 To 2 Repetition Of Wednesday Score As "De Bums" Grab Victory

DOLPH CAMILLI IS HERO OF GAME

By JACK MAHON
International News Service Sports Writer

YANKEE STADIUM, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The sun shone bright at twilight and while there may not have been a chicken in every pot there was a smile on every street corner in dear old Brooklyn Thursday for the bums beat the Yankees, 3 to 2, to tie up the world series.

Before a crowd of 66,248 jittery fans, a hero became "goat" and a bum became a hero here today to tie up the series at one game each. Flash Gordon, one of yesterday's heroes, proved the goat, his bobble in the sixth inning sending the bums on the road which led to the run that broke up the ball game. And it was Dolph Camilli, the flop of the opening game, who came through in the clutch, in the same frame to pound home the tally that meant the difference between Olympic heights and the depths of the famed gowanus for the Dodger's world's championship hopes.

Gordon Bobbles One
The game was won on an unearned run, a run put on base by Gordon's misplay. With the teams knotted 2 to 2, and Whit Wyatt and Spud Chandler battling to keep it that way, Dixie Walker was safe when the Flash threw wide to first, pulling Sturm off the bag.

Billy Herman followed with a single into left sending the Dixie Kid to third. Pete Reiser, kid slugger of the Bums, came to the plate and Manager Joe McCarthy pulled Chandler out of the box and called in Fireman Johnny Murphy to save the day.

Murphy made a great start, fanning Reiser on four pitches, but Camilli who had fanned three times in the opener and who had failed to get a hit in the series up until this time, worked him to a 3 and 2 count, then slammed a clean single into right field sending Walker across the platter. Rizzuto made a nice play on Medwick's roller to get Herman trying to score and Lavagetto fired to DiMaggio in short center to end the inning.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Art Daub, Uniontown high school coach, who was drafted last winter will ask for his old job upon his release from the army, which is expected to come soon. Twelve chuckers are scheduled when Zelenopie, North Hills and teams from Alliance, Akron and Salem play at two p. m. Sunday on the former's field. Perry Delvecchio, Greensburg golf pro, paired with T. S. Jamison, Jr., won the pro-amateur event with a score of 60, at Greensburg which was the best ball for the amateurs and was the preliminary attraction to the Tri-State PGA championship to be played today Saturday and Sunday.

Two new college coaches will match wits at Reeves Stadium, Beaver Falls, tonight. The Geneva pridders are playing their first season under Slim Ransom's direction and the Prexies are taking orders from Stu Holcomb. In the pro' field, the Steelers are also being shifted about and being taught the style of Buff Donelli, former Duquesne coach.

MURPHY WILL LIKELY START

Ellwood City Boy Probably To Be At Fullback For Titans Saturday

TOM MURPHY

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 3.—In an attempt to throw a wedge into the Slippery Rock line Saturday, Coach Grover Washabaugh will probably start Tom Murphy, Ellwood City sophomore, in the tailback position in place of Felix Demoise, Greensburg sophomore.

If the Titans find that a passing game is advantageous against the Green and White, Felix Demoise will stay in the Titan backfield but if Westminster has to resort to line-driving tactics, the Blue and White will be able to use the 185-pound backfield charges of Murphy to a better advantage.

Murphy played on the W. and J. freshman squad last fall, but later transferred to Slippery Rock. This fall, he entered Westminster as a sophomore.

Murphy is Coach Washabaugh's answer to a four-year-old plea for a fullback with enough weight to crack open an opposition line.

The Titan-Rocket game will be played on the Slippery Rock field with 2 o'clock set as game time.

Franklin High Tops Campbell

Game Played In Driving Rain Thursday, Jacobs Tallies Lone Touch down

TOFIL REGISTERS FRANKLIN SAFETY

Ben Franklin Junior High playing in a driving rain on Thursday afternoon chalked up its second impressive win of the season by downing a hard-fighting Campbell team, 9 to 0.

A Campbell fumbled recovered by Tommy Jacobs, who later in two attempts scored the lone Franklin touchdown, was the highlight of the battle. The extra point came when Jacobs passed to Lutz. Franklin scored again in the second period, but an offside penalty nullified the count.

Ciccone Feature Punter
The feature of the third period was a punt by Sammy Ciccone which traveled 58 yards in the air putting the Campbell team back on their own 10-yard line. Franklin threatened twice but could not tally in the second period. The half ended 7 to 0.

In the third period the play was comparatively even with the turf mighty slippery. In the fourth period a pass, Jacobs to Lutz, gave the Cowmeadow-coached machine a first down on the visitors 10-yard line. Franklin at this point lost the ball on downs. On a bad pass from center the ball rolled back of the goal line with Tofil of the Campbell team falling on the ball and being smothered by Franklin players. The game ended with the "Patriots" having the ball on the Campbell 15-yard line in position for another score.

The Franklin standout stars were Padula and Joseph on the line. Franklin had eight first-downs to one for Campbell. Next Wednesday, Franklin High will play at Sharon.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Aided and abetted by a lucky .852 average (29 out of 34) posted last week-end, this pencil pusher tackles Saturday's guesstest program with the aplomb of a Hedy Lamarr. Because one of our two readers suggests that we predict the scores, we'll adhere to the recommendation. What do we have to lose?

Pitt-Purdue: If the Boiler-makers could't weld together a triumph over a fair Vanderbilt club, how can they coo a well rested and a snarling Panther? Sinking with the underdog, Pitt 13, Purdue 0.

Duke-Tennessee: A more experienced Duke eleven rates a ballot over a Tennessee edition that is bound to miss the tutoring of Major Neyland. The Durhamites to grind out a 14-6 verdict.

Harvard - Pennsylvania: While Penn will miss Reagan and Mendelsohn, a campus tip insists that the Quakers are still loaded. A veteran Harvard claim, however, figures to have an important say in the matter before yielding an 18-12 decision.

Fordham-S. M. U.: Here's one that's as close as two sheets of paper. It should be a grueling fray with Jim Blumenstock leading the Rams to a 13-7 win.

Colgate-Penn State: At last! Colgate's juggernaut, reputedly one of the best in the nation, struts its stuff. The Lions boast of a fine "pony backfield" but a porous line. Colgate rates the call, 18-7.

Columbia-Brown: Lou Little has an overstuffed grid kit. Governor,

German and a good line, as only Lou can fabricate, spell a Columbia triumph, 18-0.

Michigan-Iowa: Without Harmon, Evashevski et al., Michigan looked a shade like the 1940 combo. By stopping Bill Green, Michigan could win handily. Our guess, 18-6.

Notre Dame - Indiana: Frank Leahy has more football stuff than Mother Goose had children. Indiana, even with Hillenbrand, couldn't thwart a green Detroit club. The Irish are rolling, 24-0.

Ohio State-Southern California: State will be greatly improved now that the lid lifter is over. Still stringing with Paul Brown and State, 14-6.

Cornell-Syracuse: Cornell lost heavily via the sheepskin route. You don't think that Shavely has been sleeping, do you? Syracuse is good but not heavily manned to stand the Ithacans' drive, 18-7.

Virginia-Yale: The southern boys were good enough to beat a better Yale club in 1940. A stronger Virginia club, picked by this corner to trip the '40 Yale eleven, receives the vote again, 18-6.

Navy-West Virginia: Those Mid-dies last week displayed power all the way to the 55th man on the squad. Kern's clan may put up a stiff battle but hardly figures to trip Navy. Our guess, Navy 19, West Virginia 7.

Alabama 14, Mississippi State 7. Texas Christian 13, Arkansas 6. Army 24, The Citadel 0. California 19, Washington State 7.

Stock Market Is Sluggish

General List Displays Considerable Irregularity This Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The stock market was a sluggish affair throughout the forenoon today with the general list displaying considerable irregularity. Minus signs were slightly in the madrigal, but most price changes were meaningless.

Few sections displayed independent strength, notably Postal Telegraph preferred and Western Union, on the Senate sub-committee approval of consolidation. Western Union ran up about a point to a new high for the year.

Motors held at last night's closing prices, while Case, Texas Corporation, Pacific and General Foods chalked up fractional gains. Eastman Kodak jumped a point on one sale.

Dow Chemical and N. Y. Shipbuilding were among the weakest issues, each dropping about a point before meeting support.

Fractional declines were incurred by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont, Anaconda, United Aircraft, Lockheed and Woolworth.

Rails and oils generally showed little change from previous closing levels.

N. Y. Giant Weds

Three Pennsylvania women were killed and five other persons were seriously injured when an explosion ripped the 80-foot yacht Koonung, owned by Dr. Charles Pancoast, Philadelphia millionaire, as it lay at anchor in the Sassafras river near Georgetown, Md. Wreckage of the yacht is pictured above.

Heavy Rainfall At Ebbets Field

Long Line Of Waiting Fans In Deluge About 8 O'Clock This Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Spreading gloom among world series fans, a gloom rainstorm swept over Ebbets Field shortly after 8 o'clock this morning with the resultant threat of possible postponement of the third series game.

With the series deadlocked at one victory each for the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees, a long queue of fans had waited patiently outside the Brooklyn park all night for bleacher seat tickets.

Their spirits were dampened considerably, however, by the downpour and many of the less hardy sought shelter under store awnings and in nearby doorways.

Rain-swollen cloudbanks piled up while the deluge continued, rendering considerably of an understatement the official weatherman's announcement of "cloudy, with occasional rain."

Two Series Games Draw 134,788 Fans

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A total of 66,248 persons paid $260,204.00 to see the Dodgers defeat the Yankees yesterday in the second game of the world series, according to official figures released today.

The player's share of the second day's receipts was $132,704.04; the clubs' and the leagues' share was $44,234.68 each and the commissioner's share was $30,030.60.

Attendance for the two games totaled 134,788 with the receipts of $525,600 split in the following manner:

Players—$238,056
Clubs—$89,352
Leagues—$89,352
Commission—$78,840.

Local Teams Ready For Week-End Games

Physically fit and loaded with confidence, Lawrence county's gridiron warriors await the start of week-end battles.

New Castle strives for its fifth consecutive triumph tonight, facing Sharon high at Taggart stadium. The battle begins at 8 o'clock.

Ellwood City high endeavors to hop over another obstacle on its way to the Class AA WPAL title, encountering Butler high, tonight at Butler.

Bessemer hopes to annex its initial victory when it faces Greenville high, tonight in Greenville.

Saturday's pigskin card pairs Westminster college at Slippery Rock and Union Township at Grove City. The Union fray is a night contest.
